Voting Machines -- How They Really Work

A GREAT NATION DESERVES THE TRUTH

by Michael in New York on 10/25/2004 01:16:00 PM

Another great online satire -- this one is a video of someone trying to use an electronic voting machine to vote for Kerry. Very funny.

My apologies if this was posted before; but I hadn't seen it. I suppose every election spawns books, but this one in particular is truly a watershed. The bloggers driving the news and tearing apart shoddy reporting (hello, CBS) and forcing stories to be covered by the major media. The satirical online videos that have both energized the bases and informed the undecideds -a truly potent force since most voters see NO political ads (unless you're in one of 11 states). The videos that mock the few political ads we do hear about, like that wolves piece. Jon Stewart as a source of news. Happily, the left is clearly far more adept at satire and online campaigns than the right. Presidential elections will never be the same.
